Components:

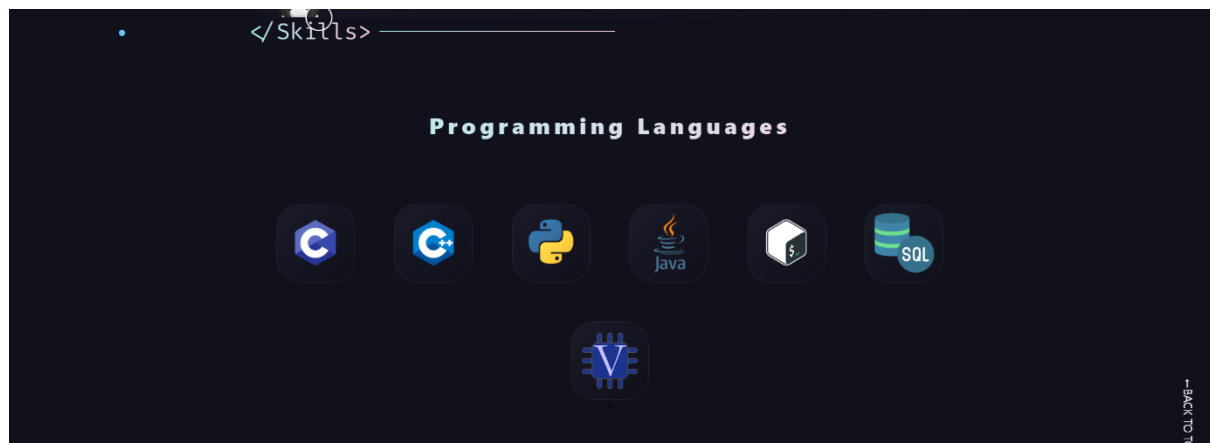

- 1) Hero Section – Comprises of an elaborate and responsive navbar. It utilises a customised mouse pointer and numerous interactive elements. The website primarily focuses on a smooth user interaction and experience while doing its job of a personal website. An added interesting feature is that of playing a calm music in the background as you scroll through the website.

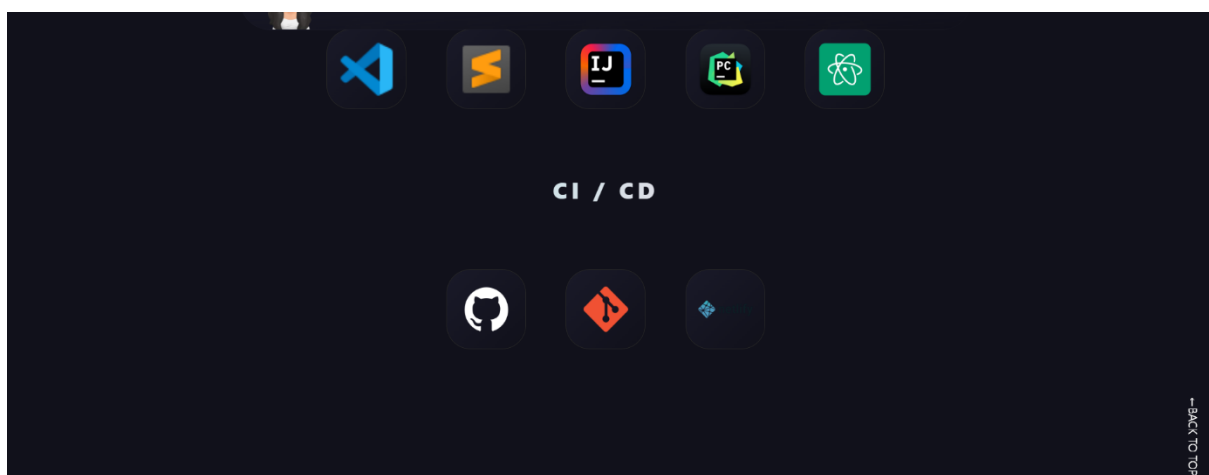

- 2) About Me Section – Provides an overview of me as a person focusing primarily on characterising everything in a couples of sentences.

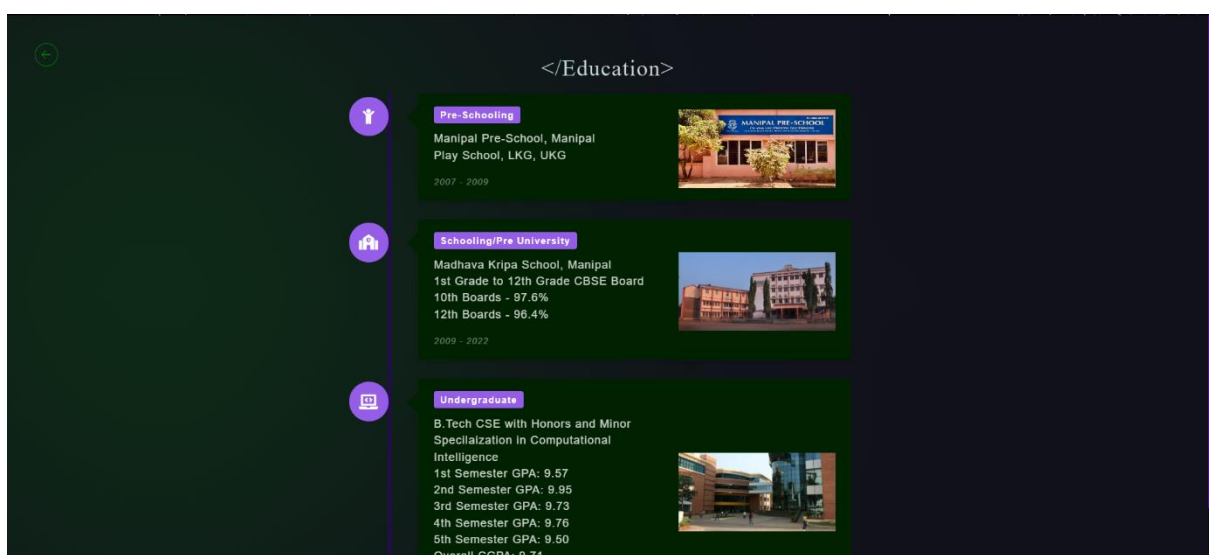

- 3) Skills Section – Includes the Programming Languages, Web Development Tech Stack, CI / CD and development environments I've worked with.

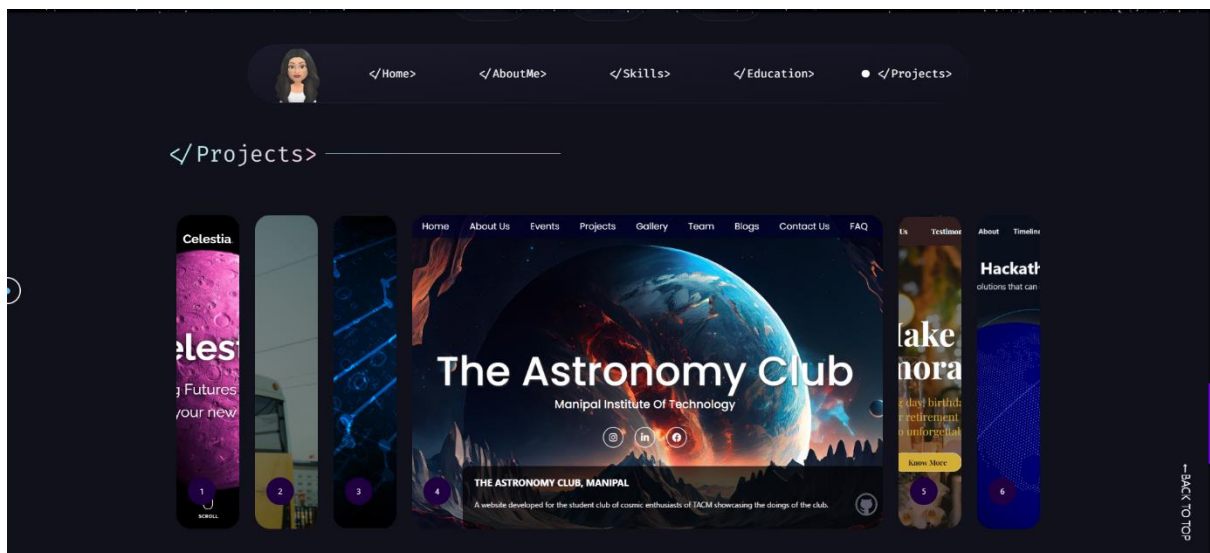

- 4) Education – This opens into a new tab showcasing a timeline of education activities.

- 5) Projects – A cool slider with a series of projects I've developed upon.

6) Footer Section – Comprises of contact details and social handles
